

Gaming Accounts for More Than Half of Blockchain Industry Usage, According to Dappradar

Gaming Accounts - New Data from DappRadar Suggests Gaming remains a Key element in the Blockchain Industry. According to the report, the gaming sector accounts for about 50.51% of the industry's monthly usage. Last month, the gaming sector made up approximately 57.30% of industry usage. DappRadar data comes from daily Unique Active Wallets (UAW). According to researchers, about 847,230 gaming-related UAWs are active every day. Gaming has long been touted as a gateway to the world of Web3, blockchain, and crypto. In another recent survey by ChainPlay, 75% of the GameFi investors surveyed said they got into the space just for gaming. It's not just GameFi investors who trust the industry as a proponent of mass adoption. During a discussion during Korea Blockchain Week 2022, experts said that GameFi and cryptocurrency go together naturally.
